

JUDGE J. W. ALCORN

PASSES AWAY SUNDAY

Distinguished Citizen And Lawyer
Of Stanford Dies Here After
Short Illness

Hon. J. W. Alcorn, whose serious illness has been noted in previous issues of this paper, passed to his reward at 1:30 Sunday afternoon, and Stanford has lost its most prominent citizen and one who was loved and respected by all who knew him. The end was so calm and peaceful that the surrounding waters by his bedside hardly knew when it came. On account of his advanced years great apprehension as to the outcome was felt from the first, and nothing was left undone that could be accomplished by scientific nursing and the best medical skill.

James Walker Alcorn was born in the Peyton's Well section of Lincoln county July, 1838, and Lincoln county owes much to the fact that the whole of his useful life was spent within its bounds. Of Virginia ancestry, he was the son of Alfred Alcorn and Mary Walker and on both sides was connected with some of the most prominent families of the State.

After receiving his education at Centre College, which institution a few years since conferred upon him the degree of LL. D., he began the study of law at Stanford when 20 years of age to the office of his distinguished kinsman, the late Col. T. P. Hill, and was licensed in November 1858. He evinced such proficiency in his chosen profession that he was taken into partnership by his preceptor and about the same time appointed Master Commissioner of the Lincoln County Circuit Court.

In September 1862, Mr. Alcorn then in the prime of manhood, joined the Confederate army and was a member of the famous cavalry commanded by the gallant John H. Morgan. He was with this daring leader in all of his famous raids until he was captured in Ohio on that most daring of all of Morgan's raids. After this he was confined for some time in Camp Chase, a military prison. He was a brave soldier and attained the rank of adjutant, and he also acted as assistant adjutant general.

When the cause for which he fought was lost, Mr. Alcorn resumed the practice of law in Stanford in partnership with Col. Hill and this was the leading firm in this section until September 1887, when it was dissolved.

As a lawyer it may be truly said of the deceased that he was the equal of the very best. Having the highest order of intellect, an analytical mind, unerring judgment, fine discrimination between right and wrong, untiring energy, he took high rank in his profession from the first and for nearly four decades he has been recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in the State. His ability in the law was not confined to his knowledge of it for he was a skillful and successful practitioner. His merit has always been recognized and during the whole of his career he has had a large practice.

For many years he has been one of the District Attorneys of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company and was held in the highest esteem by the officials of that great corporation. He has also been the legal representative of nearly all the corporations of the county. His energy knew no bounds. It was said of him that he could do the work of three men, which is hardly an exaggeration.

Judge Alcorn was possessed of many noble traits of character, conspicuous among many which was his kindness. He was ever ready to aid the poor with his means or with his service. There was never a better friend to the young lawyer and he was never too busy or tired to render him the needed assistance.

As a citizen he took great pride in the progress of his county and town and was always one of the moving spirits in efforts toward improvements. Both county and town owe him no small debt of gratitude for the mileage of turnpikes, railroads, educational institutions and other valuable improvements.

On September 13, 1865, Judge Alcorn was married to Miss Sophia F. Kendrick, of Somerset, and is survived by her and five of seven children and also by one sister, Mrs. W. H. Higgins, of this place. The children are Mrs. J. N. Saunders, Misses Kate, Pattie and Sophia Alcorn, and Kendrick, who has been his father's law partner for the past several years.

The heartfelt sorrow of the whole community goes out in sympathy to the crushed ones left behind. Of him it may be truly said "well done," for he was a successful man, a model citizen, a kind neighbor, an affectionate and indulgent husband and father and a consistent Christian, being a member of the Stanford Presbyterian church. The funeral services will take place at his residence on Danville street at four o'clock this afternoon and the interment will be in the Buffalo Springs cemetery.

Teething babies always have a hard time of it when this process occurs in hot weather. They not only have to contend with painful gums but the stomach is disordered, bowels loose and the body uncomfortable. The best help you can give the little sufferer is McGEHEE'S BABY ELIXIR. It corrects sour stomach, colic and quiets the bowels and helps digestion. Price 25c and 50c per bottle. Sold by Shugars' Drug Store, Stanford, Ky., and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard, Ky.

Special Train Brings Many to Funeral

One of the largest crowds which has attended a funeral in Stanford in several years was here this afternoon to pay the last tribute of respect and esteem to the memory of Judge Alcorn. The L. & N. railroad, of which he was an important official for many years, ran a special train from Pineville to bring all of his friends who desired to attend the funeral from that part of the state. C. W. McCalister, of Pineville, headed the big delegation, which was composed of the following:

From Middleboro—O. B. Hollingsworth, R. J. Johnson, J. E. Sampson, R. L. Maddox, K. J. Francis, M. H. Rother, G. A. Peyton, D. H. Perkins.
From Pineville—J. C. Jones, Robert Vanbeher, H. C. Rice, W. H. Hilton, L. B. Logan, A. E. Pursitt, T. D. Arnold, L. G. Lebow, C. Hurst, D. C. Burchfield, William Arres.
From Barboursville—H. C. Faulkner, J. W. H. McDonald, W. W. Timsley, W. M. Tye, P. D. Black, W. C. Faulkner, W. A. Stanfill, James D. Black.
From Livingston—W. O. Dilly, Fred Owens, J. T. O'Mary.
From Mt. Vernon—L. W. Bethune, Edgar Albright, J. W. Brown, G. M. Ballard, E. K. Gentry, A. G. Lovell, Willis Adams, R. B. Williams, C. D. Sutton and T. J. Niceley.

P. O. SALARY LOWERED

Stanford One Of Two Offices In State To Be Decreased July 1

Fifty-seven postmasters in Kentucky will get their salaries raised the first of July on account of their increased business of their offices. The salaries of two offices are lowered, and as luck will have it, Stanford is one of the two—which, of course, is not the most welcome news in the world to Stanford's popular new postmistress, Miss Mary Bruce. The revenues of the local office fluctuate considerably each year, however, and it is said to be very probable that the office will go back to the former salary next year. The increases and decreases are worked out on the amount of revenue of each post-office. The salaries of postmasters at the following offices are to be increased $100 per year, the new salaries to be as follows: Ashland, $2,800; Beaver Dam, $1,400; Benton, $1,400; Berea, $1,900; Carlisle, $1,800; Carrollton, $1,800; Cave City, $1,200; Columbia, $1,400; Corydon, $1,900; Cynthia, $2,200; Danville, $2,500; Edgelyville, $1,400; Elkton, $1,300; Flemingsburg, $1,700; Glasgow, $2,300; Grayson, $1,200; Greenville, $1,300; Harrodsburg, $1,500; Harrodsburg, $2,300; Hartford, $1,000; Haysville, $2,200; Hickman, $2,000; Hopkinsville, $2,800; Jenkins, $1,700; Keok, $1,100; La Grange, $1,500; Lexington, $1,900; Lexington, $3,500; Livermore, $1,200; Marion, $1,200; Millersburg, $1,500; Monticello, $1,400; Morehead, $1,400; Mt. Vernon, $1,100; Murray, $1,800; Nicholasville, $1,900; Owensboro, $3,200; Prestonsburg, $1,300; Richmond, $2,500; Scottsville, $1,500; Seebree, $1,200; Shelbyville, $2,400; Smiths Grove, $1,800; Sturgis, $1,600; Warsaw, $1,200; Williamsburg, $1,800; Williams-town, $1,500; Winchester, $2,600.

Those increased $200 annually are: Brooksville, $1,300; Catlettsburg, $2,400; Harlan, $1,500; Jackson, $1,700; Pineville, $1,900; Wilmore, $1,400. The salary at Hazard is raised from $1,200 to $1,500, while those at Dixon and Stanford are decreased $100 each. The new offices at Kuttawa, Morgantown, Owensville and Russell have been created during the year, and Van Lear has been dropped from presidential to fourth class.

Sallow complexion is due to a torpid liver. HERBINE purifies and gives the liver and bowels strength and restores the rosy bloom of health to the cheek. Price 50c. Sold by Shugars' Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

Dr. Willis Says Beckham's a Winner

A dispatch from Winchester to the city papers Saturday said: Dr. R. L. Willis, of Lexington and Crab Orchard, a prominent physician, who has been visiting relatives in this county, is convinced, after traveling extensively over the state, that Mr. Beckham will be the winner in the Senatorial race by a vote equal to that of both Gov. McCreary and Mr. Stanley. Dr. Willis has been making some political observations to satisfy his own mind, and has come to the conclusion that the election will be a landslide for Mr. Beckham. In Lincoln county, where he has been residing, he said Mr. Beckham would get twice as many votes as his opponents. He says he has found Beckham supporters by the hundred in every place he has visited, and declares the trend of opinion is undoubtedly in favor of Mr. Beckham.

"OUR MUTUAL GIRL" begins tonight at the opera house. Don't miss the first red.

Take Plenty of Time to Eat

There is a saying that "rapid eating causes many ills," and many ways of the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by all dealers.

ALBIA

The people of this section, of the country, are greatly in need of rain. It has been the driest season ever known. Crops are almost a failure.

Mrs. Mary Parson and daughter returned to their home in Oklahoma after several weeks' visit to her mother, Mrs. Logan, Estes.

Many people are glad to hear of the good confession of Henry Williams. He was baptized Sunday by Rev. James Cummins.

Rev. Meese filled his regular appointment at Oak Grove church Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday night he gave a very interesting lecture on "Scenes on a Trip Through Yellowstone Park."

J. C. Payne was through here Sunday and Monday lecturing for the Bond Issue in Pulaski county.

One of Willie Hays' boys is very ill with spinal trouble and is not expected to survive.

Mr. Dave Chamberlain, a progressive farmer and active citizen of this vicinity, is contemplating on leaving the state. He says the fertilizer has burned his corn crop to death and he can not live in this state. He will drive through to Illinois.

NELSON'S NARROW ESCAPE

Danville Electrician Has Close Call With Auto In The West End

Kidd's Store, June 30

Every mention of a near tragedy near Irvine Allen's in our south suburb last Thursday produces a shudder in realization of escape from apparently the inevitable. Mr. Edd Nelson, of Danville, was crawling into harbor with his disabled 2000 pound touring car when occasion arose for an adjustment in front. Neglecting to throw it out of gear the machine was unexpectedly started and no escape possible. Realizing his horrible plight Mr. Nelson, an athlete, adjusted his body with reference to protection of his head and with Samsonian strength heaved the machine to elevation which assured its transit with no greater injury than a crushed ankle and slightly bruised and abraded shoulder and back. The machine chanced to be headed for a near telephone pole and brought up against it without damage. Being alone Mr. Nelson had no alternative but to await succor which arrived soon and deposited him here to await a car immediately ordered from Danville. Only extraordinary presence of mind and Spartan determination in defiance of calamity won the day.

Emporium here was burgled lately. Only best floor, bacon and tobacco were missed. Hounds trailed rapidly, but did not trace. Toe marks indicated a party had scaled rear wall to gable window and transferred loot through a ground-floor window to a confederate. Bear traps may cut some ice at next foray.

Prayers for rains are louder and longer than were those of two months ago for less rain and there is no sign more encouraging than a local sage's wise adjuration to expect no rain till this dry spell breaks up. And he is not the authority who once gravely announced that "Easter Sunday comes on a Cloudy day this year."

Fringes of clouds which delayed neighbors have not always even shed a few tears on our distressed condition.

They do say a certain saintly soul has been sorely shocked by the profanation of the Sabbath by neighbors, who improved a few morning hours by setting tobacco before the season dried out, and will seek a soothing inducement by next grand jury. Surely the sun do move.

BURGULARS MAKE THREE CALLS

Visit R. M. Newland and W. S. Embury Friday Night, and Get $2.50

Burglars paid another pleasant little call to Stanford last Friday night when a couple of residences on Logan avenue were visited and the sum of $2.50 realized from the raids. The homes of W. S. Embury and R. M. Newland were selected by the gentlemen of burglarious tendencies as probably the most profitable to enter. Friday night was one of those hot ones, and Mr. Newland retired and left of his front door open, through which entrance was effected. The intruder got $2.50 out of his trousers' pockets and then left without touching anything else, so far as known. At Embury's almost next door, entrance was forced through the screen door in the rear. The burglars then visited the bedroom in which Mr. and Mrs. Embury were peacefully sleeping and picking up Mr. Embury's trousers off a chair near the bed, carried them to the kitchen and went through them but failed to secure anything of value. Mr. Embury regrets very much that he did not awaken during the midnight visitation as he would undoubtedly have made it much warmer for the caller for a while as he sleeps with a Colt's automatic very handy.

On Sunday night, the home of C. H. Carter, in the same neighborhood, was entered, and the burglar was identified as a short, stocky negro, by Robert Carter, who saw him running toward the railroad after he had been frightened out of the house. Young Mr. Carter had not been asleep when he heard some one moving about the hall, and he got up when he heard his sister get up. He heard a man run through the hall to a rear door, and ran for a pistol which was in his parents' room. By the time he had secured it, the burglar was well out of range, but Mr. Carter easily saw that he was a negro and short and stocky in build.

There is said to have been quite a cleaning up of old pistols and firearms since the epidemic of burglaries has become so pronounced, and somebody's going to get his head shot off one of these fine nights, if this thing keeps up.

Ben Bryan Breaks Four Ribs

Ben Bryan, the popular and well known farmer and contractor, out on the Danville pike, was seriously injured when a piece of scaffolding gave away with him Saturday while he was engaged in some work at the home of C. E. Tate on West Main street. Mr. Bryan has been in charge of the construction work in the addition of several rooms and a sleeping porch to Mr. Tate's residence. When the scaffolding gave way with him, he fell across a piece of lumber and four ribs on his right side were cracked, or crushed in. The injury is a very painful one, indeed, and there is said to be some apprehension lest he may have sustained internal injuries. He was removed to his home on the Danville pike and every attention is being given him.

Excursion to Asheville

The first excursion of the year to Asheville, North Carolina, and other points in the "Land of the Sky" will be operated over the Queen & Crescent route next Wednesday. The round trip from Danville will be only $9.00. Tickets will be sold for $12.50 which are good for six months.

BAD FIRE IN BOYLE

Over Hundred Acres of Wheat And Large House Are Destroyed

One of the most disastrous fires in several months visited Boyle county Sunday afternoon when seventy acres of wheat belonging to Mr. Mitchell Taylor and forty acres wheat belonging to Mr. Epperson were destroyed, along with a lot of other property, says Monday's Danville Advocate. It is said that the fire started near the railroad and spread rapidly toward the east being fanned by a brisk wind. Aside from the wheat, a two-story frame residence of eight rooms and chicken house on the farm of Mitchell Taylor were reduced to ashes. In one of the barns there were one hundred bushels of corn, farming implements and other things. Four or five hundred panels of fence were burned and practically all the furniture belonging to Mr. Sam Wheeler, who lived in the house which was destroyed. There was no insurance on any of the property. A lot of meadow was also burned. Hundreds of people hurried to the scene of the blaze and helped to fight it. It is stated that the fire started from sparks from an engine on the railroad, although the Advocate has not talked to anyone who saw the fire when it originated. It is reported however, that a number of prominent citizens saw the fire when it first began and that it spread so rapidly that it could not be checked until it had run its mad course. Even large shade trees at the residence for many years occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Burke were burned to the ground. A lot of chickens belonging to Mr. Sam Wheeler found place of safety in a grass plot that did not burn.

'Beckham Speaks at Mt. Sterling

Mt. Sterling, Ky., June 27.—One of the largest crowds that has attended a political speaking here in some time gathered to hear Gov. Beckham Saturday present his claims for the Senatorial nomination.

Gov. Beckham is very popular in this county, and prior to the address a number of voters called on him at the hotel to assure him of their support and co-operation in his race.

The former Governor was introduced by Judge E. W. Seiff, who at one time presided over the Police Court, and who is now serving his second term as County Attorney of Montgomery. Judge Seiff has heretofore been a supporter of Gov. McCreary, but in the present race has been one of Gov. Beckham's strongest supporters.

In the course of his introductory address, Judge Seiff said:

"It is my distinguished privilege, and I am deeply sensible of the honor, to present to you today the man whom the Democrats of Kentucky, in a preferential primary some six years ago, selected as their standard-bearer for United States Senator."

"Under the then existing law, in order for that selection to be binding, it required the indorsement of the Legislature, and as you will recall, it being a matter of current history, because that nominee would not sacrifice his convictions and compromise with dishonor, the will of the people was thwarted, and by political corruption our nominee defeated."

"Fortunately, the law has since been changed, so that the people can now, for the first time, by a direct vote, right the wrong then done."

"Both as an official and as a citizen, he has boldly stood for cleanliness in politics, for honesty, efficiency and business-like methods in the administration of public affairs, and in every day life for those things that best make for peace, happiness and prosperity. It is therefore with great pleasure that I introduce to you the man whom I believe will, and by reason of his high character and superior qualifications, ought to be the next United States Senator from Kentucky, the Hon. J. C. W. Beckham."

Villa Fools the World

Zacatecas, Mexico, June 29.—One hundred and eighteen Mexican Federal army officers of various grades were marched out of their prison inclosure yesterday under a heavy guard of Constitutional troops, taken to the plains east of the city for the customary executions and then were astounded to hear from the lips of General Pancho Villa that their lives were spared. The old Aztec law of Mexico was overturned. An inviolable custom was cast aside. General Villa sought to prove to the world in an effective though dramatic way that he is becoming civilized. The effect on the rigid line of Federal officers was instantaneous. Some wept with relief. Some buried their faces in their hands. Some gazed in an apparent daze at the firing squad standing with rifles at rest. Even the red soldiers were prepared for Villa's act. The Federal officers had heard of Villa as a huge savage with a blood lust. The Constitutionalists had expected him to carry out the custom of Mexican warfare.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

Every family without exception should keep this preparation at hand during the hot weather of the summer months. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is worth many times its cost when needed, and is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. It has no superior for the purposes for which it is intended. Buy it now. For sale by all dealers.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

The degree team of Lancaster Royal Arch chapter No. 36 will confer the Royal Arch on nine Masons at Liberty Friday evening.

Wesley Embury, who has a nice position in the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hamilton, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. J. T. Embury, here.

County Attorney W. S. Burch has been confined to his room for about a week with a severe attack of gall stones. His many friends will be glad to know that he is improving rapidly now.

The I. J. is mighty proud of the large number of news letters that appeared from its country correspondents in the last issue. Keep up the good work and let us have a letter once a week from all parts of this and adjoining counties.

Robert H. Coffey returned to his headquarters at Youngstown, O., on Sunday after a couple of weeks' vacation spent here with his parents, Col. and Mrs. Joseph Coffey. Mr. Coffey is one of the best men on the road of the Garlock Packing Company.

A program for a big Fifth Sunday meeting to be held at the Hustonville Baptist church in August, is being arranged here today by a committee of prominent ministers of this district. They are Dr. M. D. Early, of Stanford, Rev. Albert Maddox, of Hustonville and Rev. J. L. Adkins, of Perryville.

Mrs. Mary McBee and son, Raymond of Beech Grove, Ind., are back on a visit to relatives and friends here where they lived for a number of years. Ray formerly worked in the I. J. office and the many friends he made while here, will be glad to know that he has "made good" in his new home. He is now employed by the Big Four railroad in an important capacity.

News comes from Cedar Creek that Col. I. P. Chandler, the silver tongued auctioneer, is still quite ill with heart trouble and has not shown the improvement that his host of friends could wish. Col. Chandler is suffering from chronic heart trouble. Fears are entertained that he will not be up in time for the Broadhead fair, of which he has been Ringmaster for the last 30 or 40 years, and of which he is one of the fixtures. A Broadhead, of which he has Chandler simply wouldn't be a Broadhead fair—that's all there is to it.

E. M. Gatliff, of Williamsburg, was in Stanford last week on an automobile trip through the bluegrass with his sister, Miss Una Gatliff and her guest, Miss Beverly Davidson, of Augusta, Ga., and T. E. Mahan, of Williamsburg. Mr. Mahan was recently graduated from State University. This is Miss Davidson's first trip through the bluegrass and all points of interest will be visited by the party. They left for Lexington and Louisville, will return the latter part of the week and will spend a week at Cumberland Falls.

One of the handsomest homes in Stanford will soon be erected on the large lot which T. A. Rice recently bought from Dr. D. E. Proctor, south of his home on Danville avenue. Mr. Rice has arranged with Contractor Will Stone for the erection of a two story brick residence with all modern improvements. This home will be quite an addition to the architecture of Stanford when completed. Mr. and Mrs. Rice will move in from their farm on the Danville pike, three miles northwest of Stanford, and make their home in town when their new residence is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Menefee got in from Knoxville, Tenn., Monday and are with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Menefee, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. George G. Menefee, the bride and groom, came in a day earlier, and Mrs. George F. Cowan, of Spokane, Wash., has been here a short time with her parents also. It is very seldom that one of the sons or daughters of this popular couple come home, without several brothers or sisters showing up. The affection that each member of this Stanford family has for the others is something beautiful to behold, and is especially noticeable in these days when family ties are so often forgotten or neglected after the sons and daughters begin to leave the parental roof tree.

Rockcastle Boy in Oklahoma

A dispatch from Oklahoma City to the C. J. Sunday had this not of interest: Dr. R. H. Miller, of Mt. Vernon, came out a few weeks ago on a visit to his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller, former residents of Kentucky, now residing in Oklahoma, and now Dr. Miller places after his name on the hotel registers, Miami, Okla. Dr. Miller looked around and liked it and lost no time in closing a deal for the Red Cross drug store, one of the largest and most up-to-date establishments in Miami, Okla. Dr. Miller is a graduate of the Louisville School of Pharmacy, and for the past few years has been manager of the Rosenbach Drug Company, of Knoxville, Tenn. He takes charge of his new purchase July 1.

Barbed wire cuts, ragged wounds, collar and harness pulls heal up quickly when BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT is applied. It is both healing and antiseptic. Price 25c, 50c and $1 per bottle. Sold by Shugars' Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

CRACK YOUNGSTERS ENTERED

K. P. Fair Colt Stake Bids Fair To Be a Hummer This Year

Notwithstanding this great interest which is being manifested by horsemen in the K. P. Fair's $1,000 saddle stake to be decided at the exhibition here August 19, 20 and 21, scarcely less interest attaches to the Colt Stake, which will be a feature of the first day of the fair. Some of the finest bred youngsters in the state have been entered for the $100 prize and the competition promises to be unusually keen this year. The youngsters entered are the progeny of several of the most fashionably sires now in the stud in Kentucky. Colts have been entered by the following well known breeders: Dick Scudder; J. T. L. Messer; Thurmond & Peters, of Springfield; W. H. Murphy; R. M. Blackerby; W. B. & S. M. Denny, of Garrard; R. C. Hocker; Mrs. Richard Tasker Lowndes, of Danville.

The Farmers' Home Journal horse notes had the following of interest to horsemen in the section:

R. H. Lillard, of Lawrenceburg, has bought from J. W. Garrett, the seven year old saddle stallion, Highland Lee 3051. He is by Highland Denmark 730, a son of Black Squirrel 58, out of Nancy Lee 476, a daughter of Monto Cristo 59.

Allen S. Edelen, of Burgin, has purchased from R. H. Lillard, of Lawrenceburg, the nine year old saddle stallion, Fishag Denmark 2406. He is sired by Emerald Chief 2132, a son of Bourbon Chief 976, Dam Belle G. 278 a daughter of Harrison Chief 1606.

James Cochran, of near Mackville, sold recently his Chester Dame mare with colt by Bohemian King to W. L. Elliott, of Perryville, at a price said to be a long one. This mare is considered to be one of the best mares in Washington county, while the filly has great style and action.

Larry S. Bonta, of Harrodsburg, was in Louisville this week and while there he visited the office of the American Saddle Horse Breeders Association to arrange for the registration of his chestnut colt, American Chester. Mr. Bonta thinks that from present indications this colt will be the "Conquering Hero" in the colt classes this year.

Bob Moreland bought the past week in Jessamine county a green three gaited gelding that he thinks is a real marvel as to finish and general conformation, while he has nothing lacking when it comes to the matter of a trot. As yet Moreland does not know his breeding, but wants to wager that he has a Chester Dame or some other very fine horse cross close up in his pedigree.

Hustonville Defeats Moreland

The Hustonville and Moreland baseball teams played a fast yet ragged game of ball last week, the former winning by a score of 6 to 5. Spalding Hill, of Stanford, played with the winners. The Moreland batsmen outthrew the victors, but couldn't make them effective. The score:
